Raiderettes Pluck Eagles

The Raiderettes in their first home game on Dec. 9 froze the Eagles attempts to score and held them to 5 pts. The Raiderettes with a total of 57 pts. were lead by Maryjane Smith scoring 24 pts. The Raiderettes next to high scorer were Debbie McIvor with 7, and Jan Stanley having 6. The high scorer for the Eagles was Phyllis Johnson who shot the lone 5 pts. for Staunton River.

At the foul line the Raiderettes scored 25% of their attempts. They shot 32% from the floor while Staunton River scored less than 1% the entire game. Do these statistics show you the importance of the defense on the Raiderettes Squad? Staunton River scored 2 out of 35 attempts.

The Raiderettes are headed to a 10-0 season under the watchful eye of Coach Martin and Coach Tolley, and it is our job to be there to support them. See you there.

Number of Out-of-State Visitors Shows Increase

The number of out-of-staters visiting Virginia by car annually rose by 191 per cent between 1949 and 1974, and their expenditures increased 191 per cent, the State Department of Highways and Transportation found in its sixth visitor travel survey.

J. P. Mills, Jr., the department's traffic and safety engineer crisis and the economic recession.

"It was a time when consumers became more conscious of their personal patterns of energy consumption and, as a consequence, their travel habits," he said of the newest study period.

Findings of the survey, based on interviews with more than 61,000 motorists from out of the state, are contained in a statistical report being distributed by the department to organizations and individuals interested in Virginia's travel industry.

Mills said the first study, made in 1949, showed 17,360,625 persons visiting Virginia in a total of 7,820,855 automobiles. In 1974, he said, 47,554,100 persons came in 22,771,000 cars. They spent $220,217,000 in 1949 and $594,158,400 in 1974.

Mills said that of all the out-of-state car parties visiting Virginia last year, 42.2 per cent were on pleasure trips, nearly 40 per cent were on business trips, and the remainder were for combined pleasure and business travels and commuting to jobs in Virginia.

The percentage of pleasure trips, which had remained relatively constant since the first survey in 1949, reflected a substantial decrease in the new study, dropping from 49.9 per cent to 42.2 per cent between 1969 and 1974.

Mills noted that the average number of days spent in Virginia by out-of-state parties, other than commuters, declined from 2.3 days in 1949 to 1.8 days in 1969 and remained at 1.8 days last year.

He said the study also confirmed a sharp change in the kind of facilities sought out by travelers for overnight lodging. In 1949, the number of out-of-state car parties spending the night in Virginia used hotels (32.8 per cent) and motels (32.5 per cent) to about the same extent. Last year, only 1.8 per cent used hotels, while those using motels had increased to 52.8 per cent.

During this same period, Mills said, those staying in tourist homes declined from 7.7 per cent in 1949 to .37 of 1 per cent in 1974.
